

Building Public Awareness

To raise awareness about the conservation of turtles, we developed educational materials including a durable, life-sized model of a snapping turtle, a video highlighting conservation efforts, and interpretive graphics. We also provided content for a children's book and disseminated printed copies during programming. On and off-campus programs provided the public with the opportunity to view turtles and other wildlife first-hand.

