PROJECT STATEMENT:

The City of Minneapolis and Friends of the Lock & Dam (FL&D) seek fee title acquisition of land abutting the Upper Lock (but not the Lock structure itself, which is still authorized for flood control) from the federal government for the purposes of creating recreational opportunities and a visitor and interpretive destination on the Minneapolis Central Riverfront. The opportunity has arisen because the Upper St. Anthony Falls Lock, a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers facility, was closed to navigation by an act of Congress in 2015. Federally owned riverfront property is now subject to disposition. Friends of the Lock & Dam and the City of Minneapolis have the expertise and the wherewithal to protect and enhance this land as an iconic public amenity. The project implements adopted plans and resolutions including City Resolution 2018R-098 (2018) the City’s Downtown Public Realm Framework (2016); ; the Minneapolis Park & Recreation Board’s Central Riverfront Regional Parks Master Plan (2016); the tourism plan adopted by Meet Minneapolis, Destination Transformation 2030 (2016); and the St. Anthony Falls Heritage Board plan, Changing Relationships to the Power of the Falls: West Bank (2014).
